EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1. This reactive investigation was initiated on 19JUN14 after CDR (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) USN, Commanding Officer (CO), USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS (DDG95) notified NCIS Resident Unit (NCISRU) Djibouti of the death of BMSN Yeshabel VILLOT CARRASCO (V/VILLOT CARRASCO), USN, while the ship was at sea off the coast of eastern Africa. CDR CALLOWAY advised that V/VILLOT CARRASCO had allegedly experienced a medical emergency in the Female Berthing 2. Command medical staff arrived in the berthing to treat V/VILLOT CARRASCO who was conscious but unresponsive to verbal stimuli. V/VILLOT CARRASCO was transported by Command stretcher-bearers to the medical facilities on board where life saving measures were administered but unsuccessful. V/VILLOT CARRASCO was pronounced dead at 1846 on 19JUN14. CDR CALLOWAY advised the ship would arrive in Djibouti on or about 21JUN14.

2. On 21JUN14, the USS JAMES E. WILLIAMS arrived in Djibouti and NCIS responded to initiate the investigation. Forensic Consultant (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) was contacted telephonically from scene. Witnesses were interviewed and initial reports indicated V/VILLOT CARRASCO had ingested a bottle of sleeping pills. Death scene examination was completed, and on 21JUN14, V/VILLOT CARRASCO's remains were transported off the ship for transit back to the United States for autopsy. Additional logical interviews and review of evidence was completed on various dates. All investigative efforts are documented in References (A) - (F). On 22Oct14, the Death Review Panel (DRP) unanimously agreed all investigative and administrative requirements had been met and recommended the file to be forwarded to the NCISHQ Death Review Board (DRB) for authorization to close this investigation. On 08Jan15, the NCISHQ Death Review Board (DRB) convened and authorized the closure of the investigation.

NARRATIVE

1. This reactive investigation was initiated to investigate the circumstances of V/VILLOT CARRASCO's death. No criminal statutes apply.

2. On 19Oct14, this investigation was referred to the NCISFO Middle East Death Review Panel (DRP). On 22Oct14, the DRP convened and determined the investigation satisfied the NCIS requirements for the DRP. On 02Nov14 the DRP authorized the investigative file be forwarded to NCISHQ for a Death Review Board (DRB).

3. Subsequent to submission of Reference (F), on 08Jan15, a NCISHQ DRB convened and reviewed this investigation. DRB voting members consisted of SA (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) (Division Chief and DRB Chairman), SA (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) and SA (b)(6), (b)(7)(C). Following the review, the DRB authorized closure of this investigation.

4. Per DRB authorization this investigation is now closed.

I/DOD WORLDWIDE/CYBER CRIMINALS EXPLOIT MILITARY ADVANTAGE PROGRAM TO CONDUCT ONLINE VEHICLE SALES SCAM

COMMAND/DOD INTEREST/00000

MADE AT/MEDJ/DJIBOUTI - NCISRU (b)(6), (b)(7)(C) SPECIAL AGENT

NARRATIVE

1. This criminal intelligence report is being generated to provide current information regarding an online fraud scheme targeting DoD Personnel attempting to purchase vehicles under the guise of the Military Advantage Program (MAP), or vehicle purchase protection (VPP). This criminal intelligence was derived from a recent Federal Bureau of Investigation, Criminal Intelligence Bulletin.

2. The FBI assesses with high confidence, cyber criminals are defrauding US military personnel and other consumers through the fraudulent representation of the vehicle purchase protection (VPP) program known as the Military Advantage Program, to entice victims into an online Internet vehicle sales scheme. Cyber criminals posing as US military personnel are placing fraudulent vehicle sales advertisements on Craigslist and enticing potential victims by advising them the transaction will be processed through the Military Advantage Program. The FBI judges this cyber fraud scheme may be an evolution of earlier tradecraft. The information is based on 1,038 consumer complaints received by the Internet Crime Complaint Center (IC3) between 10 February and 18 April 2014, complaints received by the Overseas Military Sales Corporation (OMSC), and FBI source reporting.

3. Complaints received by the IC3 over a two month period in early 2014 revealed cyber criminals posed as US military personnel in order to sell personally owned vehicles. Victims believed they were responding to legitimate vehicle sale ads placed on Craigslist, when in fact the ads were fraudulent and the vehicles advertised did not exist. Cyber criminals pretended to be US military personnel online and advised their potential victims they needed to sell a vehicle quickly due to pending deployment orders or similar circumstances. Once the criminals begin corresponding with a potential victim, they informed the victim the transaction would be processed through the Military Advantage Program. The unsuspecting buyers would then send thousands of dollars upfront to pay for vehicles online, which they never received.

4. According to information from the IC3, 62 complaints were reported between 10 February and 18 April 2014, related to this online vehicle purchase scam. The complainants reported they were victimized after responding to an online vehicle sales ad on Craigslist portraying someone in the military either stationed overseas or being deployed overseas who needed to sell a vehicle located in the United States quickly. Scammers then informed the victims the transaction details would be handled through the Military Advantage Program. In addition, many consumers reported they made payments using Green Dot "MoneyPak" prepaid cards as well as Western Union wire transfers as requested by the scammers.

5. On 12 December 2013, the FBI received a complaint from the US Attorney's Office, Southern District of Alabama; regarding two subjects posing as military personnel attempting to sell vehicles via Craigslist. The complaint stated both subjects lured potential victims into the scam under the pretense purchases would be conducted using "Google Wallet" and "MoneyGram" prepaid cards for their protection, similar to methods used in the Military Advantage Program. An FBI IC3 database query uncovered 476 possible additional victim complaints, which referenced the same subjects, with victim losses totaling more than $632,000.

6. According to the FBI, a high level representative of the OMSC, as of 25 February 2014, the OMSC had received more than 500 complaints from US military personnel notifying the company of an online vehicle sales scam. A typical scam consists of a Craigslist ad placed by an alleged US soldier advertising a vehicle for sale. In subsequent communications, the scammer advises potential buyers he needs to sell the vehicle quickly because he is being deployed to Afghanistan. The scammer also instructs his and requests payment via Moneygram. Once the payment is received, all communications with the buyer ends and the Craigslist ad is removed. The scammers often used names similar to plans offered by reputable online sales Web sites such as Ebay, Google, and Amazon, which typically offer buyer protection packages. To date, 1,038 victims have reported losses of more than $817,000 related to this scheme.

7. The FBI assesses with high confidence, based on FBI reporting which is deemed reliable and the high number of IC3 complaints, cyber criminals will continue to use this scheme as it easily generates lucrative illicit profits and can be adapted for use on any Web site, using any number of misrepresentations of VPP or buyer protection programs such as the Military Advantage Program. Another attractive element of this scheme for overseas cyber criminals is the belief that they have a jurisdictional safety net to avoid prosecution as evidenced by wiring illicit proceeds overseas and potentially out of US law enforcement reach. In addition to posing as military officials, the FBI judges this successful fraudulent scheme may encourage scammers to defraud more victims by impersonating other demographic groups to perpetuate this type of fraud.
